INTERNSHIP

Better Tomorrow -	Feb 2024
Interned as MERN Stack Developer, leading book library app development. Used Node.js, Express.js, React.js for API creation and UI design. Integrated MongoDB for data management and JWT for user authentication. Conducted thorough testing and debugging for seamless user experience. Collaborated with team, ensuring project milestones and code quality.

PROJECTS

E-book Management System:

I have designed a web-based E-book management System using MERN Stack technology which provide all the available books you can see them in genre based and also display the top rated books on the top and also add them to your collections and make use of it

Expense Tracker:

Developed an expense tracker MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) project enabling users to track their expenditures, manage budgets, and generate insightful financial reports. Leveraged React for the frontend interface, Express.js for the backend API, and MongoDB for database storage, enhancing user experience and facilitating efficient data manipulation.

Fake News Detector

A tool to identify and flag potentially fake or misleading news articles using natural language processing techniques. Features include analyzing text content, detecting patterns, and providing a confidence score for the likelihood of the news being fake. Built using Python and various NLP libraries.

Tech stack: Python (Natural Language Processing libraries)
